

LATIN
SCHOOL of CHICAGO

SERVICE LEARNING

Awareness. Action. Empathy.

Latin School of Chicago and Service:

It's about community.

When talking about service, I think a lot of people incorrectly assign the roles of the “server” and the “served.” My volunteer work has been just as much about receiving as it has been about giving. Service has become an essential part of my life; I need my weekly visits to UCAN just as much as – and probably more than – the kids there do. – Ian Spear '13

Commitment to Community Service

As part of Latin's mission to provide a well-rounded education, the school is committed to educating students to be contributing members of our global society. Service learning is critical in teaching students an awareness of the world outside themselves and the needs of others. Lower, middle and upper school students all participate in service projects, working together to change our community for the better.

Classes in the lower school are involved in a variety of projects throughout the year, from making valentines for senior home residents to collecting supplies for victims of natural disasters. In the middle and upper schools, students contribute to a variety of community-based service programs, including organic gardening, tutoring, and serving at shelters and food programs. Freshmen and sophomores are required to complete a number of service hours each year. These hours must involve direct interaction with an at-need community and must include a contextualized orientation and reflection. Latin's commitment to service is a school-wide initiative. It is part of the life of a student here.

Ninth and Tenth Grade Service Learning Requirements 2012-2013

Latin School of Chicago requires sophomores to complete 20 hours of service during the school year; freshmen are required to complete 10 hours. Any service completed during the summer of 2012 (before the school year begins) may apply for up to $\frac{1}{4}$ of the total required hours. To be clear, sophomores who complete 5 or more hours during the summer can receive 5 hours of credit. Freshmen who complete 2.5 or more hours during the summer can receive 2.5 hours of credit. A student cannot accumulate more than $\frac{1}{4}$ of the required hours in the summer before the school year begins. For a Latin student, service is continuous and ongoing.

Service completed during the sophomore retreat will not be counted toward the student's 20 hours, nor will service completed during Freshman Day of Service. Service completed during Project Week will count for up to $\frac{1}{4}$ of the student's total requirement.

We strongly encourage students to seek out and find an organization to volunteer with all year. It is likely to be a more fulfilling experience overall if the student continues to visit the same site on several occasions. The purpose of the Service Fair is to allow students to find opportunities, make connections with outside organizations, and set up future volunteer dates.

Ms. Bunger and the student's advisor will be able to discern what is approved as an appropriate service opportunity. Service should be considered something active, done for a community that has a genuine need, and should have a "learning" component to it. There are hundreds of appropriate opportunities available in the Chicago area, and Ms. Bunger would be happy to help students find something that meets Latin's standards.

Please note

- Each student should make sure his/her service activity is approved by Latin School of Chicago.
- We do not allow students to do fundraising or charity to fulfill their service requirements.

I love working with the kids [at Common Threads]. They are so funny, smart, and amazing. I look forward to every week when I get to see them. – Maddy Turner '14

Some of my favorite family moments are the times we work on a service project together. There's nothing better than several generations working together to help others. And we always walk away realizing how much we've benefitted from the opportunity to help others – I think we, as a family, get more out of the work than we give.
